CWM AMBASSADORS

CWM has ambassadors in over 100 countries. Each of these contacts has the job of disseminating information such as CWM funding calls in her mathematical neighbourhood, and also of keeping CWM informed about activities or initiatives to be announced on the CWM website.

WHO WE ARE

The Committee for Women in Mathematics (CWM) is a committee of the International Mathematical Union (IMU). CWM was created by the IMU Executive Committee in March 2015. It has ten members, at least one from each continent.

VISIBILITY

The first aim of the International Mathematical Union's Committee for Women in Mathematics (CWM) is to propose, encourage and facilitate activities to increase the visibility of women in mathematics and their representation in the community at all levels and in all parts of the world.

NETWORKS

The second aim of CWM is to help establish networks of female mathematicians at the continental or regional level, especially in developing or emerging zones. From 2016 to 2022, IMU From 2016 to 2022, IMU funding enabled CWM to support more than sixty events or initiatives from Columbia to Uzbekistan and from India to Senegal. There is a new call for projects every year.

WEBSITE

The third aim of CWM is to develop its website. The CWM website is the only platform which collects information about the many and diverse activities for female mathematicians taking place worldwide. Besides news and resources, forty-three countries are listed providing a means for women to contact each other and giving them greater visibility.
